

Stashbuster Sachet

a simple and fun way to protect your clothes from moths using leftover yarn
by Pamela Schultz

Using just a tiny bit of sock weight yarn, these sachets are the perfect way to use up leftover yarn and protect your stash. Fill with lavender or cedar chips to ward off moths. You'll love making these sachets, whether they end up in your sock drawer, with your handknit sweaters, or...back in your stash!

Yarn

Sock weight yarn in contrasting colors:

Color A: about 40 yards

Color B: about 30 yards

Needles

Size 1 US/2.25 mm 32" circular needles, or dpns

Gauge

29 sts and 36 rows = 4" in pattern

Measurement taken from relaxed fabric after steam-blocking.

A Note On Gauge

Gauge is not essential to this project, but if you're going to fill your sachet with lavender or cedar chips, you don't want the gauge to be too loose.

Finished Measurements

Approximately 4" square.

You may make the sachets smaller or larger depending on your needs.
The stitch pattern is worked over multiples of 4.

Notions

Stitch marker

Tapestry needle

Scissors

Additional Supplies

Lavender seeds or cedar chips, about 1/4 cup

Stitch Pattern

This project uses the dip stitch. To do the dip stitch, insert your right-hand needle into the front of the stitch 3 rows below your next stitch. Knit into this stitch, then knit the next stitch on the left-hand needle and pass the extra stitch over it.

Finishing

If you would like to block your work, you can place it on a stitch holder to steam block. Be sure to leave a yarn tail long enough for grafting.

Using the working yarn, cut a yarn tail about three times longer than your work. Using your tapestry needle, graft about half the stitches together. Once you have grafted half the stitches together, fill the sachet with the lavender or cedar chips. Graft remaining stitches together.

Weave in ends and enjoy!
